

I'm unique

Dear Valued Customer,

Thank you for purchasing our product. We just wanted to let you know a few things about your new product.

Your vanity top or basin is a handcrafted product that has endured high temperatures during the manufacturing process, some size variation and visual distortion is to be expected. This is not a defect but can be seen to add to the aesthetics of the product.

Due to the nature of the manufacturing process, every item is unique. Please be assured that slight surface variances and size tolerances are normal. We have a thorough quality control process that ensures the finished product meets quality guidelines and is as close to the nominal specifications as possible.

Here at ADP, we take pride in delivering quality products and are committed to a sustainable future.

Please take care

So you can enjoy your vanity top/basin for many years to come, care must be taken. Some materials are more heat and scratch/chip resistant than others, to preserve the surface and protect against heat damage do not place hot items directly on the surface. Avoid dropping heavy or sharp objects on surfaces as scratching and chipping may occur.
